Arizona's Rich Valleys.

Col. D. H. Wallace, ex-receiver of the Tucson land office, informs the Star that he considers the region around Phenix the garden spot of Arizona. The vast improvements in progress in that quarter, the influx of the very best class of people to inhabit those valleys, the rich natural resources of the country, warrant the most sanguine predictions. Salt river valley covers an area of about 18 by 40 miles in size. Its irrigation system is an extensive one. The Arizona Canal Company waters very nearly 100,000 acres of land; the Grand Canal, 16,000 acres; two other ditches cover 10,000 acres each. The total irrigated, or capable of irrigation, foot up about 136,000 acres. Nearly every foot of this land has been located, in addition to which very valuable improvements have been made. The Arizona Company sells a permanent water right for 80 acres for $600. That is about the proportionate charge. The purchaser, however, is afterwards required to pay an additional water rent. In the Gila valley, some fine ditches have just been fully completed. The Buckeye Canal is 25 miles in length, with a capacity to water 17,000 acres of land; the Hall ditch covers 20,000 acres, and the St. Louis ditch about the same. Wherever the water can be turned on, the earth brings forth bounteously. Colonel Wallace asserts that almost anything will grow in those valleys—wheat, barley, corn, oats and every description of vegetables. With the exception of oranges, almost any kind of fruit does well, including peaches, apricots, grapes, etc. The water is pure, and admirably adapted for drinking purposes. People are flocking in to occupy the land, many of them are persons of considerable means. In addition to the agricultural advantages referred to, the hills are peopled with enterprising and successful miners, such as have made Arizona famous for wealth throughout the world.

Council bill 59 was introduced by Anderson, relating to riparian water rights.
Watkins introduced No. 60, an act to provide for increasing the revenue of the territory and public school fund, which was read first and second time under suspension of the rules and referred to the committee on education.
In the house Leatherwood introduced a memorial asking for the appointment of a larger force of inspectors along the Mexican frontier.
Gray presented a petition asking that a slice of Pima county be cut off and glued to Cochise.
House bill 78 was introduced by Baker, an act concerning the territorial prison.
By Peel, No. 77, from code commission, an act concerning limitation of actions.
The house having refused to concur in amendments of the council to the penal code, Scott of Pima, Smith and Peel were appointed as conference committee, the council committee being composed of Watkins and Burdick.
The committee on education, in the council has reported a substitute for Strauss' public school bill, which was under discussion this morning. The bill is substantially the old school law with a few amendments.
The only absentees in the house this morning were Fisher (on leave) and White.
Trippel, of the committee on appropriations, reported favorably on Ashurst's anti-railroad bond bill of this county.
Gray, of the committee on corporations, reported unfavorably on the insurance bill.
Scott, of the conference committee on the amendments made to the penal code bill in the council, reported favorably on the amendments, Burdick, of the same committee, from the council, dissenting.
Bills were introduced:
By Andrews, No. 81, an act concerning streams, lakes and rivers of the territory, with special reference to irrigation and mining.
By Andrews, No. 82, an act to amend an act entitled an act concerning district court reporters, approved February 13, 1879. The principal provisions of this bill is to cut the salaries of court reporters down to $600 per year.
By Bracewell, No. 83, to amend an act for the protection of stock raisers; referred to a select committee composed of Felton, Ashurst, Baker and Doran.
On motion of Andrews, house bill No. 25, amending an act defining the boundaries of Maricopa county, was taken from the table, and, on motion of Trippel, the bill was considered engrossed.
On motion of Oliver, the vote whereby the house refused to concur in council amendments of the penal code bill was reconsidered, and, on motion of Scott, the amendments were adopted.
Council (code) bills 39, 36 and 37 were passed by unanimous vote of all members present.
The house went into a committee of the whole, to consider amendments to house bill 78, from the code commission, concerning elections, with Peel in the chair. The bill elicited considerable discussion and without taking final action on it, the committee arose and asked leave to sit again to further consider it.
Ming's Miles county bill and Trippel's bill attaching a portion of Yavapai to Gila county, passed the house this afternoon.

FRIDAY, February 25th.

The militia bill was reported in the council yesterday, from the committee on Indian and militia affairs, by Watkins, with amendments.
The amendments were discussed when the bill was recommitted again to the same committee.
A number of other bills were up for discussion, but as the representative of the Journal-Mirror was unable to obtain the titles further than by number, owing to the extra work imposed on the secretary of the council, a report would be uninteresting.
Ming's new county bill forming the county of Miles, together with Trippel's Gila-slice-of-Yavapai-bill, went through the house yesterday afternoon.
The vote on the former stood as follows: ayes, Ashurst, Ashurst, Bean, Baker, Doran, Felton, Leatherwood, Ming, McKay, Smith, Scott (Apache), Scott (Pima), Trippel, Worm, Mr. Speaker—15; nays, Andrews, Bracewell, Gray, Heyne, Oliver, Peel—6; absent, Collins, Fisher, White—3.
The vote on Trippel's bill was the same with the exceptions, Gray voting aye and Collins being present, also voting aye, making the vote 17 to 5.
The house yesterday afternoon passed the code bills "concerning fraud and fraudulent conveyances," council bill 43; "concerning the partition of real property," house bill 70; and "an act concerning executions," house bill 74, by unanimous vote.
House bill 32, granting per diem to witnesses in criminal cases, was indefinitely postponed.
Webb's bill, attaching a slice of Yavapai to Maricopa county, was passed by a combination vote, the same as passed the Miles county bill and Trippel's county division bill.
The commissioner of immigration bill was further amended in the house.
Business in the council is a'out blocked for want of more clerks. An effort was made this morning to secure additional help to the secretary, by private scrip of members, but it was strongly opposed by Robertson and failed to go through.
In the council this morning, Stevens reported back the bill for the relief of John Dobbs, without recommendation.
Breed reported favorably on house bill 67.
The only absentees in the house this morning, was White.
Heyne of the committee to which Collins' bill, for the relief of C. A. Luke was referred, reported unfavorably on the bill.
Adams, chairman of the committee on agriculture, reported favorably on council bill 30, repealing the sheep herding law.

Felton, of the same committee, submitted a minority report against the bill, on the grounds that the interests of the cattle men and sheep men, both were best served by the present law.
Peel introduced house bill 84, from the code commission, "concerning lands and holders," being a protective law for land owners.
Smith introduced house bill 85, "an act in relation to homesteads."
Gray gave notice that he would at an early day in accordance with petition received, introduce a bill to annex a portion of Pima county to Cochise.
Scott of Pima, gave notice that he would introduce a bill, also, at an early day, annexing a large slice of the state of Sonora to Cochise county.
On motion of Andrews, a reconsideration of the vote was had, whereby council bill 33 was indefinitely postponed.
When the house indefinitely postponed this bill got things a little mixed, as the nature of the bill was misunderstood. The bill repeals the present law of imprisonment for debt and with a proper conception of its import the house will probably pass it. It is a code bill.
Peel gave notice that he would introduce a bill creating a territorial order of agriculture, when a recess was taken until two o'clock.

SATURDAY, February 26th.

In the council yesterday afternoon, the bill for the relief of John Dobbs came up for final passage and was lost by a vote of 5 ayes to 6 nays.
Only nineteen members of the house were present at the afternoon session yesterday.

In accordance with request of the house the council returned council bill 33, repealing the law for imprisonment for debt, and it will no doubt be passed now.
A supplemental report was received from the governor, in relation to the insane asylum commissioners.
Fisher's stock bill, 74, was taken up in the committee of the whole, and elicited considerable discussion in which the members grew exceedingly warm in debate.
On the house resuming its session, the committee of the whole asked for leave to sit again.
At the opening of the session in the house this morning all the members were present, at roll call.
As the roll call was finished and no chaplain present, Ming of Graham, who has a talented consideration as a petitioner to the Almighty, made a motion, that Mart Maloney, the representative of the Star, who was within the railing at the time, offer up petitions for the members, it was ruled out of order by the speaker.
House resolutions Nos. 9 and 10, relating to the appointment of a committee to investigate the actions of the co-directors of the insane asylum commissioners, having been badly mixed, a committee was appointed to correct the minutes.
The following were appointed: Trippel, Andrews, Felton, Smith and Doran.
The following bills were introduced:
By Fisher, to abolish the territorial university.
By Andrews, code bill, in reference to justice's court.
By Gray, code bill, in reference to legal holidays, making, May 30th, Decoration day, February 22d, Washington's birthday, election days and Thanks giving legal holidays.

A motion to indefinitely postpone council bill, No. 30, repealing the two mile limit law in reference to sheep herding, was made by Fisher and lost by a vote of 14 to 10.
On motion of Doran, the rules were suspended and the house returned to second reading of bills, when house bill 30 from the code commission was taken up for its second reading.
On account of lead pencil erasures and other irregularities, Doran desired the bill recommitted, but the motion was voted down, when a recess was taken until 2 o'clock.

By Anderson, No. 70, concerning partnerships.
By Stevens, No. 72, an act relating to the government of the territory.

Useful and Marvellous Remedies.
There is a certain class of remedies for constipation absolutely useless. These are balms and ointments made in great part of podophyllin, aloes, rhubarb, gamboge and other worthless ingredients. The damage they do to the stomachs of those who use them is incalculable. They evacuate the bowels, it is true, but always do so violently and profusely, and besides, gripe the bowels. Their effect is to weaken both them and the stomach. Better far to use the agreeable and salutary aperient, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the laxative effects of which is never preceded by pain or accompanied by a convulsive, violent action of the bowels. On the contrary, it invigorates those organs, the stomach and the entire system. As a means of curing and preventing malarial fevers, no medicine can compare with it, and it remedies nervous debility, rheumatism, kidney and bladder irritability and other inorganic ailments.
